Dear Editor,

I am proud to be a part of the pro-life movement that, with the help of our God, has saved millions of little children who are or have been in homes care. For fourteen years, this pro-life group has grown in popularity because we are not only pro-life, we are pro-life with a passion. Despite the deprived economy, every year the membership has tripled, and we have never lost any member.

But this year, our movement has grown. You see, things have changed, and we no longer have to choose between life and prosperity. At the beginning of the year, we had forty members. Now we have one hundred.

So, dear reader, what are you waiting for? Join us today and help us save the lives of millions of little children. Together we can make a difference. Together we can change the world.

Sincerely,

The Pro-Life Movement

Towns & Union Foster Children's Christmas Program

Lucky come home!!

Dear Editor,

This year especially, the Christmas spirit (and the need to provide presents for children) was hit hard by the closing of the previous sponsor. The Towns & Union Foster Children's Christmas Program is still going strong, however, and is able to provide presents to the children in foster care. The program is in need of donations to help provide presents to these children.

We are asking for donations of gifts worth approximately $25. Any gift, however, is greatly appreciated. The children will be given the presents at the DFCS office on [date].

If you would like to donate, please call [phone number] or visit the DFCS office. The package was still in the pretty wrapping, so some of the more practical gifts, such as clothing or toys, may have been damaged. Some good Samaritan found the gift and decided that it was better in a different location.

This gift was delivered unopened and in perfect condition. It was brought to the DFCS office on [date] and we hope that the child will be able to enjoy it. We cannot return the gift for money, but our Samaritan did not understand that bad behavior is unacceptable. The present was still in the pretty wrapping when it was delivered.

Many thanks for your help in making this program a success.

Sincerely,

Opinions

There are those who argue that modern products have become so efficient and productive that anything that is made by hand has become obsolete. They believe that modern technology is the only way to achieve efficiency and productivity.

In my opinion, however, it is important to remember the value of traditional skills and craftsmanship. Handmade products have a unique quality that is difficult to replicate with modern technology. They are often more durable and can be passed down through generations.

We should not overlook the importance of traditional skills and craftsmanship in today's world. Let us value the beauty and uniqueness of handmade products and continue to support those who create them.

Sincerely,
