Staff Writer

Happy Birthday to Navy Seabee Veterans of America Island X-3, which turned a year old on Sunday, April 10.

Island X-3 members commemorated the anniversary two days prior, on Friday, April 8, during their regular monthly meeting, which takes place at 1300 hours the second Friday of every month at the Major Leon Davenport Veterans Center in Blairsville.

"The initial meeting we had, Mike Ruback, Richard Hoibraten and myself had discussed starting an Island, and we were hoping we could get the five members that we needed to start the Island," said Ed Crenshaw, who took over from Hoibraten as commander of Island X-3 in the most recent meeting.

"Our first meeting we had on April 10 of last year we had 17 members, so that was a highlight. The other highlight of the year, I would say, would have been the Seabee Ball."

The Seabees took on a rather ambitious project of conducting the first ever Seabee Ball in the North Georgia Mountains, all while being a brand new group themselves.

On Thursday, March 31, Towns County Sole Commissioner Bill Kendall signed a proclamation honoring April 15 and April 16 as Lions White Cane Days.

For the Towns County Lions Club, those are the most important dates of the year.

Most may know the Lions Club as the organization whose members routinely volunteer at the Georgia Mountain Fairgrounds, but

On Thursday, March 31, Towns County Sole Commissioner Bill Kendall signed the Confederate Memorial Day Proclamation.

The Proclamation recognizes the United Daughters of the Confederacy as an organization with a purpose to include honoring the memory of its Confederate ancestors, and honoring the service of veterans from all wars as well as active duty military personnel, and recognizes April 26 as Confederate Memorial Day.

Each year, Towns County sets aside the same day to honor, observe and celebrate the Confederate States of America. The county also encourages its citizens to participate in any activities that commemorate and honor the history and cultural inheritance regarding the Confederacy.

Representing the Sons of Confederate Veterans and the United Daughters of the Confederacy were Russell and Beverly Shreeve.

Beverly, a member of the Smith's Legion of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, explained that Smith's Legion was a local battalion formed to fight in the Civil War.

"Smiths' Legion was a group that was formed in North Georgia by Sumner Smith, and they had the enlistment in May of 1862. In March of 1863 it was absorbed within the 65th Infantry of the Confederacy. But lots of soldiers in North Georgia were in that unit,"

Elections are right around the corner, and the Towns County Board of Elections needs volunteers to help work the polls in each of its four precincts: Young Harris, Hiawassee, Macedonia and Tate City.

Poll Manager Sis Jarrard said that 2016 will likely be a big election year, because of the upcoming presidential election as well as election for county sheriff and county commissioner.

The general primary election will be on May 24. The general primary runoff will be on July 26. The general election will be held on Nov. 8.

On Tuesday, April 5, the Hiawassee City Council heard a number of presentations during its regularly scheduled meeting.

President Candace Lee of the Towns County Chamber of Commerce gave an update on the city's hotel and motel dollars and tourism.

"The city's marketing dollars have been used for print ads in Southern Living Magazine, Georgia Great Places, which is the Georgia State Parks Magazine, and in print, Smoky Mountain Living Magazine, Southern Travel and Lifestyle Magazine, USA News and Georgia Travel Guide, which is a state piece. ## Young Harris deals with water issues, hears from Howard

At the regular Young Harris City Council meeting on Tuesday, April 5, the city dealt with existing issues surrounding its biggest project, the Water Treatment Plant.

Residents Twyla Nicholson and Lewie Hughes returned to Young Harris City Hall to inquire whether the city had made any progress on replacing ruined water pumps. They feel the issues were caused when the city contractors cut a water line, causing low water pressure in their area.

Another problem has recently arisen concerning a nearby fire hydrant.

"We had another mishap," said Nicholson. "Our fire hydrant was knocked down and we had to get more pump work done. And it was because there was so much air in the lines that it kept surging back and forth through our lines and it knocked our pipe off in there and flooded the pump valve. We had to do more work on it."

Blairsville - Wrestling fans rejoice, as the second annual S.A.F.E. Pro Wrestling Fundraiser has arrived.

The family-friendly event, featuring wrestling talent from Georgia Premier Wrestling, will take place on Friday, April 15, in the old rubber gym at 310 Welborn St. in Blairsville.

Doors open at 7 p.m., with a bell time of 8 p.m., and tickets are $10 for adults and $5 for children ages 11 and under.

S.A.F.E. Inc., a nonprofit serving Towns and Union counties, will receive a major percentage of ticket sales from the wrestling event, as well as 100 percent of the proceeds generated from the sale of concessions.

"Our three programs - the domestic violence program, sexual assault program and child abuse program, are all under the organization for S.A.F.E., so any proceeds that we make apply to all programs," said Molly Cousin, executive director of S.A.F.E. Inc.

For those who were unable to make the event last year, Cousin said that she could personally attest to how much fun it was watching the wrestlers go at it.

"It's very obvious it's entertainment," said Cousin. "They keep it very kid-friendly, very pro-women - the way they did the wrestling was very woman empowered if there was a woman wrestling. They also sell masks while they're there, and they had all the kids come up and take pictures. It's very family-oriented, not super aggressive or adult-like."
